“Deep in the human unconscious is a pervasive need for a logical universe that makes sense. But the real universe is always one step beyond logic.”

~ Frank Herbert, Dune

The human mind is so fragile as to be left only as a conduit to perception, which in turn creates all human reality, for perception is reality in a world void of any deep understanding of the metaphysical self. To reach an intellectual plateau of knowledge and serenity, and in order to accept truth, one must escape the chains of the indifferent and untrustworthy mortal ego, in favor of finding wholeness in the honesty of the awakened human spirit. This psychological and subconscious resurrection from collective ignorance brings light to darkness, creating knowledge where blindness once dwelled. This is the essence of spiritual strength; the essence of life.

Why does the human animal struggle so mightily to lock himself in collective perception instead of seeking a higher place where confidence and calm reign? Why do the masses hide from honesty and truth thinking this will make them safe? Why do the many gather together instead of seeking solace in self-awareness? Why do the crowds believe that reality is only what they can physically see in front of them? This attitude has led to a total dependence on the whims of a master class, and a mindset that is completely contradictory to any aspect of attaining or retaining freedom.

In today's world, human existence has been brought down to its lowest level; it has seemingly gone backward, and therefore is susceptible to any manner of manipulation and control. The coming year will be the ultimate test for humanity, as extreme tyranny will not become dormant or disappear, but will escalate beyond the imagination of most. This is not an unthought out doom and gloom prediction, but is based on much research and observation, especially over the past two years. American society, as well as most all others, are ripe for abuse and takeover, and the planners of this conspiratorial fake 'Covid' coup fully understand the weakness, dependence, and cowardice that grips most of mankind, and will attempt to take advantage of these pathetic attitudes in an effort to gain control over life itself. Only an individual inner awakening and mass actionable resistance can stop the onslaught of death and destruction that looms in our future.

Many things are possible; many things will be attempted by the ruling class. Most, if not all, of what will happen has been telegraphed already, and should not be a surprise, but the bulk of society are not paying attention. Children face the biggest threat, as a push to inject every child multiple times with this deadly poisonous 'Covid' bioweapon is the main agenda of the monsters now controlling the narrative. If allowed, and it will be by most in my opinion, this process will begin soon and continually be pursued with additional aggression throughout the year. If the young are subject to this controlling mechanism, and in many cases, maiming or lethal injection, the future will belong to the ruling class.

Once the young are co-opted and controlled, and with the blessing of many calling themselves parents, the rest of the future agenda is academic for the evil among us. With only marginal pushback and minor dissent without teeth, any resistance will be met with renewed totalitarian measures and more threats. State physical aggression and brutal enforcement will indicate a breach in the armor of the ruling class, but continued compliance and blind obedience to state mandates will allow for control of the proletariat to be solidified.

There will be more and more restrictive measures attempted, including more travel restrictions, social behavior demands and modifications, additional testing requirements, monetary threats due to increased money printing out of thin air, extensive control over money and credit, less access to jobs and medical care without lethal injection, and changes in all forms of identification and privacy rules. All efforts to digitize societal systems, including the elimination of cash and private transactions, will be expanded by the fascist corporate and government partnerships, and attacks on cryptocurrencies, especially privacy coins, will be ramped up.

Larger threats aimed at the population at large will be forthcoming in the form of false flag events meant to frighten the masses enough to cause fear-based obedience in order to garner what will be nothing more than worthless false safety. These will come from many angles, including what will be said to be cyber-attacks levied by some mystery foreign enemy, or those 'dangerous' individuals and groups not complying with the ludicrous totalitarian demands made by the state. The curtailing or elimination of the bread and circus bait that has been offered this summer by the controlling element of government may be forthcoming this winter, at a time when the people at large are more dependent on unimportant distractions in order to perceive their lives as being somewhat 'normal.'

Price inflation will continue to rise exponentially, as deliberate supply line disruptions continue to escalate while access to goods and services dwindles. Housing shortages and impossible prices will not end in the near term, causing even more stress for many across the country. Even food shortages will become much more evident, as all of this planned economic carnage has universal consequences across every market.

There will be few areas not adversely affected, including the energy markets and infrastructure. With every new extreme cold front there will be more risk of the loss of power and energy, all controlled by the state. We have seen what damage this can do just last year, but with bogus false flag cyber-attacks as an excuse, much more loss of power and heating could cause devastating consequences nationwide; all blamed on some event said to be unavoidable.

In the midst of this tyrannical environment, the renewed push to use the spectre of non-sensical man-made climate change to further frighten the masses will not only be employed, but will eventually become the new 'Covid,' replacing the fake virus threat, as has been the plan all along. Beware this evil transition, for it is meant to be the final threat that allows the state to control all for eternity, and can and will be blamed for every supposed impending threat to mankind.

Whether some of these things or all of these things and more come to pass in 2022 is unknown at this time, but one thing is certain; threats and attacks against the people will not end but only worsen. There also could be war plans in the offing, even if only used as another distraction and threat against society. As government and its controllers often state without any thought given; nothing is off the table, including medical and military martial law. Just recently, the Biden administration has announced plans to deploy the military to distribute 500 million 'Covid Omicron' tests beginning next month amid a so-called wave of 'cases,' of a non-existent 'virus variant.' If we as a people do not fully resist this onslaught of totalitarian evil, this will be the beginning of a year of hell, and the beginning of the end.

None of what is being warned about here should be taken lightly; in fact, it should all be considered not only a distinct possibility going forward, but it should be expected. This does not have to be our end; it could be our beginning. All that is necessary is for good men to act instead of hiding in the shadows. The advantage is ours, but only if large numbers of individuals say no to any order given, and stand against this plotted and obvious tyranny without fear. There is no risk great enough for any to stand silent and allow the wicked to rule the earth.
