I Am Not My Story

I Am Not My Story

by Zen Gardner

Deeply rooted, convoluted, my story took its form

Weaving and deceiving all, the characters were born
"False appearing real", the chequered meme within its spell As the image wound its hungry way and lies began to gel

How story loves to reinforce, for self and others' pleasure Not seeing that from selfsame point was made that story's measure
The masquerade continues on, appearing unabated While all along the Truth inside was scoffed and underrated

The stories change and rearrange, depending on the weather Who needs what, will I survive? Co-dependent tales together Should I play or should I stay? Should I do this or that... Decisions made for which we paid the billing as we sat

Stories are so int'resting and often very clever No matter if they're true or not, we're in this play together Now subtle more is what's in store when Truth It starts to surface
Conflict sure, but what allure, a grin instead of grimace
There's something there, from who knew where, and I just could be him
Something deep that ever seeps and seeks to fill to brim But wait, my story's crumbling, in fact it's quite the shock Tis' not as played, my cool parade - my strut began to mock

Defeat is triumph backwards, as if there's aught to fear The self is story on the loose, a lie yet held so dear Thoughts and stories coalesce to try and reach success But thankfully, we come to learn, the story's not our best

I finalize, with final eyes, that stories all are fake Memes and mimes just spewing lines with ego on the take What always waits 'yond conscious gates is something quite amazing
Creation's aide, another grade, and this is where I'm grazing

Zen Gardner is an impactful and controversial author and speaker, whose personal story has caused no small stir amongst the entrenched alternative pundits. His book You Are the Awakening met rave reviews and is available on amazon.com. You Are the Awakening examines the dynamics of the awakening to a more conscious awareness of who we are and why we are here - dynamics which are much different from the programmed approach of this world we were born into. Zen Gardner does not currently offer public contact details.

Post Format: Standard

This is an example of a standard post format.
Inspiration is a spark. A flash of light. Ignition. But without the proper mixture of oxygen and fuel, inspiration both lives and dies in the same instant. My life, my experiences, my research; these things are fertile soil for the great blog posts hidden within me. I carry them always and they are present when I sit down to do my work.

But all too often, it's a struggle. The raw material is there, but the inspiration is not. The oxygen is abundant, but the fuel is scarce. And I'm left wondering, "How?"

How do I harvest? How do I sift and pan? How do I mine the caverns within me for intellectual and emotional gems? How do I... write?

Or perhaps a better question is, how do you? Yes, you, my kindred blog reader. Surely, you are similar. Surely, you've wrestled the Great Muse down to the dusty earth, and won.

I know this: it starts before $I$ sit down to type. Great posts begin with significant life challenges. With weighty problems to solve. With an urgent need or a mature discontent with the way things are today. Yes, I think all great posts begin before words are written.

So get up, reader. Walk away from your keyboard, and live. Only then can you give life... to words.

John: Are we still meeting for breakfast this morning?
John: Where is the rest of the team? I've been here since

3:00am.
Tom: Umm... We actually sleep. Go back to bed, dude.
John: Fuuuuuuuuuuuu
Tom: Fine. But if I show up, I am not wearing pants.
