Bilyana Martinovski is a PhD, author, blogger and researcher. When she began speaking out about the astounding crime wave in Sweden, she was persecuted. She was fired from her job, maligned in public and blocked from being hired in any new positions. Her recently scheduled appearance at the Gothenburg Alternative Book Fair was canceled when the entire event was shut down by authorities. Bilyana shares facts and details about the total clamp down on free speech in Sweden. Is this constitutional crisis a preview of what we can expect here in the United States?
