What if a malignant or virulent germ, or the fear of something unknown, or a fabricated killer sickness could numb human feelings, destroy emotions, alter the human psyche, eliminate individuality in favor of the herd, and through group-think and conformity change the face of mankind? Could something like this be planned and implemented in order to use fear to dull the senses of your family, friends, neighbors, and people everywhere? Would you be willing to give up your livelihood and risk poverty due only to fear of a mysterious unknown demon? Could orders be given by 'authority' figures that would mandate hiding all facial expression and forcing people to not get close to one another or interact naturally? Would everyone seem to be the same because recognition was no longer possible? Would entire populations quit working and hide in their homes, fearful of any contact with others? Would the government and its enforcers stage and then protect criminal gangs out to destroy people and property, burning everything in sight? Could all that criminal behavior be blamed on non-existent racism? Once all this happened, could it be possible to program the minds or bodies of large numbers of people, either by propaganda or injection to force them to act in a certain way? What if all were against all?

When science fiction and reality meld into one, humanity will always suffer. This has to be so, because the human animal lives, loves, and thrives due to emotion and feelings, and when that is thoroughly blended with inanimate and cold science fiction, the result is a human machine of sorts; one that mutates to become a detached and indifferent robot instead of a caring human being. The transformation does not have to be total to cause harm, as any marriage of pure emotion and emotionless science cannot survive untainted.

What is happening in this country today is the final stage of the destruction of individuality, uniqueness, and independent thought. In order for a global reset to be successful, total control over the people at large must be achieved. Individuals with critical thinking skills stand in the way of any takeover of society, so they have to be marginalized, censored, or eliminated in order for the global agendas to go forward. The plan being used to accomplish this began as a fake pandemic but has now mutated to become a fake casedemic. The entire fraud is based on a lie, and fear is being used to gather together the herd so that compliance testing can be accomplished. So far, most all the testing has been successful, as people voluntarily accepted isolation or quarantine, left their jobs and businesses, distanced to avoid family, friends, and neighbors, took their children out of school, and for the most part quit traveling. The next round of compliance testing saw many people line up for bogus coronavirus testing, temperature checks, blood tests, and many other demeaning exercises 'requested' or mandated by the state.

After the normal flu season ended, and death counts, even fake death counts, went down to nearly zero, it was time to create a new panic to frighten the masses, so the casedemic was born. Wild and unsubstantiated claims of thousands of new cases were just what the doctor ordered, and this second phase of this scam was initiated as a stopgap measure until the next flu season. Additional distractions in the form of looting, rioting, stealing, and assault by despicable criminals were allowed, and then the ultimate test was launched.

That test was one meant to check the obedience level of this country's sheep; a control test so ridiculous that if followed would indicate that the people would do anything they were told to do, regardless of the absurdity of the mandate. So all were told that the only way to stop the spread of the so-called Covid-19 would be for everyone to wear a mask. This ludicrous order would have multiple parts, and the first would be to test mass compliance. That compliance was nearly universal, even though certain groups and individuals were fighting back, but the bulk of society has acquiesced to the state order of wearing a mask. As the flu season begins, and the propaganda explodes, more will likely comply, so it looks like the first test stage has been successful for the elitist monsters and government.

With masks in place, and submission achieved, the state fully understands that people across the country will become less and less dependent on emotion and human contact, as most everyone will be faceless, and therefore more feared and less important. This breeds a dispassionate society, and one that harbors distrust and indifference concerning others. In addition, wearing a mask is extremely unhealthy for multiple reasons, and can cause great harm, including the compromise of the immune system. This will lead to a sicker society just in time for the normal flu season, allowing the state to use normal sickness claimed as coronavirus to once again panic the entire country.

Once this is all in place, a deadly vaccine will be introduced to the masses. It will be touted as the only way to end the tyranny and to get back to what will be called 'normal.' With a higher degree of sickness than normal due to all these factors discussed, acceptance of this horrible vaccine will be widespread. If that happens, everyone injected with this vaccine will have multiple viruses inserted into their bodies, including what is mislabeled as Covid-19. With the weakened health of the population, this will be devastating, and will only perpetuate the coronavirus lie that was the cause of all this terror in the first place.

My opinion is that once the vaccine is widely accepted and administered, the state will have won, as control over a large swath of the world will have been accomplished. Any vaccine will have many components, some known and some unknown. Given the technology available today, much of which is secret, the agendas of those like the Gates Foundation and others will be aggressively pursued.

A normal flu shot contains three or four different flu viruses, but there are hundreds every year. In addition, these shots or sprays may contain thimerosal, a mercury-based neurotoxin that is very dangerous. Standard components also include aluminum, multiple antibiotics, egg protein, formaldehyde, monosodium glutamate (MSG), squalene, gelatins, polysorbate 80, aborted human fetal tissue, animal tissue, and more. This is scary enough, but what will be in a Covid-19 vaccine? No one knows, and it will not be fully tested, or tested at all before it is given to the public. Besides all these toxic ingredients, any new vaccine could easily contain nanoparticles meant to change the DNA structure in humans. It will be an experimental RNA/DNA based concoction. The great risk of brain-changing technologies being introduced in a Covid vaccine exists, and this could easily be done covertly. It is difficult to imagine that anyone would accept this if they understood the real risks involved.

As it stands today, the minds and bodies of billions of people could be altered with a new toxic vaccine. Should that happen, what changes are possible? What dangers are evident, and what is hidden? What if this vaccine undertaking could cause a worldwide DNA restructuring that could be used to more easily control large numbers of people? In my opinion, not only is this very possible, but also is probable, so extreme caution is warranted.

This enemy we face is not from outer space, and will not emerge from a pod, but lives among us, and desires to control all of humanity through very ominous means. The real enemy includes the banking cartels, the world health organizations, the corporate and pharmaceutical heads, the criminal tax-free foundations, and their pawns in government at most every level.

The largest social experiment ever attempted is happening before our eyes. It is life threatening. This is our dilemma, and only mass resistance and dissent can change the course of events being used to destroy mankind and the freedoms we covet.

“Look, you fools, you’re in danger! Can’t you see?! They’re after you! They’re after all of us! Our wives, our children, everyone! THEY’RE HERE, ALREADY! YOU’RE NEXT!”
