Excerpt from transcript:

Brian Rose: If you just had to take a step back right now, what do you think is actually going on? What's your gut feel here as to what is actually happening? ...

Dr. Andrew Kaufman: *I would love to answer that and, you know, taking into account all of the evidence I've looked at, which has been almost entirely from peer-reviewed scientific papers and official government websites, my opinion is that this entire pandemic is a completely manufactured crisis. In other words, there's no evidence of anyone dying from any novel illness ..
