- The role of pharmaceutical companies creating a "public health emergency of international concern" and the end game of getting everyone vaccinated with an experimental gene therapy.
- How the stage was set to push this genetic experiment onto the whole world with the rollout of Emergency Use Approval in the US and Conditional Use Approval in Europe.
- How covid cases, that previously did not exist, were created by using the fraudulent PCR test
- Upcoming lawsuits – with 200 to 300 lawyers cooperating worldwide in various class action and individual lawsuits.

- Regarding the possibility of class action lawsuits for those who were harmed or kill as a result of the covid vaccines, and in light of the fact that the manufacturers of the vaccines claim immunity from such suits, Reiner Fuellmich responds:
 "They claim that in the United States and in some other parts of the world there's no liability for them. They're immune. They claim immunity. But there's no immunity from intentional infliction of harm. And this is what this is."

- Crimes against humanity – The Nuremberg Code and its protections against medical interventions without full informed consent.
