"...I think there has been, you know, a total wave right of criticism of the the truth that viruses don't exist and cause disease. And we see that, seemingly at the same time, that the pandemic seems to be drawing near an end. Right?

We see suddenly lifting restrictions all over the world.

And even Bill Gates predicted in 2022 that would be the end of the pandemic.

The Wall Street journal printed an editorial saying that...essentially last three weeks a major drop in cases, and it signifies, you know, what do they call it – the herd immunity. Right? Which is another thing we can debunk.

So, as they're kind of ending out of this – and, you know, I'm sure that there's more planned in the future. And I don't know if it's going to be a health crisis or not. But if this does peter out, they want to make sure that as we, you know, get this relief and come out of it – and probably they want us to look at them in a favorable light.

But they want to make sure that we still believe in deadly and dangerous viruses.

And they want to make sure that we still believe that there are safe vaccines, even if we question the safety of these particular genetic injections.

That we retain those important beliefs, so that they can still continue to profit and manipulate and, you know, run operations in the future.”
