"In the magical universe there are no coincidences and there are no accidents. nothing happens unless someone wills it to happen"

~ William S. Burroughs

During this time of a non-existent 'virus' pandemic, world lockdowns, mass business closings, economic failure, growing bankruptcies, panic, and starvation, the rich are laughing all the way to the bank. Coincidence? There is no such thing as coincidence, as everything happens for a reason, and in this case that reason is clear. Everything that is happening today was planned long ago, so the obvious question is why are the richest not affected by any fake virus like the rest of us, and in fact have been able to use this farce to gain massive wealth in a structured time of chaos? The only logical answer to this question rests on the fact that they knew exactly what was coming and when, and how to profit from it.

The multi-billionaires are part of the big club, the one that you and I are not allowed to join. That club is made up of those that hold all the strings of the political puppets, and those that call the shots. These are the self-claimed 'elites' that make up the top tier of the oligarcical pyramid of power, and that walk in the halls of the big banks, corporations, and tax-free foundations. They do not wait to see what will happen, they cause the things that happen. They are the controllers. That is why in the arena of power and control, there are never coincidences; there is only certainty.

By using this purposely manufactured 'pandemic,' the world's billionaires' wealth has increased from $8 trillion to $10.2 trillion from April until July this year. That is a 28 percent increase in net worth for the richest on the planet in just four months, while most of humanity has been economically destroyed and locked inside home prisons.

Again, this is no coincidence, and since it is not, it is blatantly obvious that it was the plan all along. While most small and medium sized businesses are in dire condition, devastated by the Covid response, big business has used a crisis brought about and perpetuated by the billionaires' pawns in government. While children and families around the world are starving, these evildoers are taking advantage of this killer reset to line their pockets with money stolen from the very people now starving.

Of course, there was a $2 trillion stimulus plan that was passed into law for the supposed purpose of relief for those individuals and small businesses harmed by the government's draconian response to a fake virus. Some of that money did go to individuals in the form of a $1,200 payment, and some was used for federal unemployment benefits for those forcibly removed from their jobs. But the bulk of the money went to large corporations, state and local governments, large hospitals, airlines, and the largest universities. The small business portion, as it was labeled, also catered to companies with up to $5 billion in revenue. Much of what went to smaller businesses was in the form of loans that had to be paid back, and many of the loan transactions due to this Congressional Act went through large banks, allowing them to profit from this stimulus bill. All in all, including money going to not so small companies, about $1.3 trillion was spent mostly to support large business. The balance was sent in small payments to individuals, and used for unemployment meant to keep people at home so they would not work. This also helped the rich get richer.

It is imperative to understand that government has no money whatsoever; it can only steal from its citizens. So every time payments were sent out and collected by individuals and real small businesses, it came out of the pockets of the same 99% receiving what was called aid. In reality, most all money was distributed to the wealthiest among us.

During all this chicanery, the stock market was supported by trillions more dollars, and manipulation through the repo-markets of up to a trillion dollars a day in what are called repurchase agreements, or short term borrowing to raise capital, has been used as a tactic to prop up the markets. In addition, the Federal Reserve continued to print money out of thin air at levels never seen in history, piling more debt on the public, destroying the value of the assets of the general population.

With all the asset loss on closed or restricted businesses, on commercial property, and the massive loss of wealth of the lower and middle classes, the billionaires were able to buy these assets for pennies on the dollar, allowing for huge profits at the expense of the citizenry of America.

So it should come as no surprise that the wealthiest people in the world have increased their net worth by $2.2 trillion in just 4 months of this Covid hoax. This is just the beginning of a massive wealth transfer from the poorest to the richest, as with every lockdown, and every business closure, the billionaires simply continue to make more money and gain more power. The housing collapse coming in the near future will be a goldmine for the rich at the expense of homeowners everywhere.

The most important thing to take from this scam is that it was planned in advance, and the terror used to frighten the people allowed the rich to not only gain immense wealth, but also to do so with the help of all those in the political class that claim to represent you. It is all a lie, and while the wealthy billionaire class is unaffected by this virus scam, they are laughing and partying while stealing from you all your money and property. If left to finish their agenda, they will continue to amass wealth until they have most all of it, and then will gain even more from a vaccination that will leave the average person stupefied by state poison meant to allow for the total control of all.

When will the herd disperse, and use their individual minds to seek the truth, and in finding that truth, awaken to the fact that no freedom can exist unless they alone create it?

“Insanity in individuals is something rare – but in groups, parties, nations and epochs, it is the rule.”

~ Friedrich Nietzsche–Beyond Good and Evil Ch. 4
