Climate engineering operations are the crown jewel of the military industrial complex. A quiet weapon for silent warfare. A weapon with which entire populations can be brought to their knees without ever even knowing they are under siege.

Is hiding the climate intervention programs from the public a top priority of the power structure? You decide.

If global populations were to discover that their governments were waging covert weather warfare, a shockwave would ripple around the world. The paradigm would shift. The 3 minute video below provides evidence of hurricane manipulation.
