

If I Were a Parent I Wouldn't Vaccinate My Child...

If I Were a Parent I Wouldn't Vaccinate My Child...

by Jon Rappoport

May 15, 2024

If I Were a Parent I Wouldn't Vaccinate My Child...

...According to the CDC schedule...

With a gun pointed at my head.

I wouldn't vaccinate him at all.

I've been told the CDC expects every child to receive 70 shots in the arm between birth and 18 years of age.

I recently took a look at the CDC childhood vaccine schedule. I found the tables confusing.

But I did note the two lists of vaccines they want kids to take between birth and 15 months, and then between 18 months and 18 years old.

This isn't the number of injections; it's the number of vaccines.

Between birth and 15 months: 20 vaccines.

Between 18 months and 18 years old: 20 vaccines.

40 vaccines. FORTY.

20 during the most vulnerable period possible—birth to 15 months. And that doesn't include vaccines the mother took during pregnancy.

So the CDC is Murder Incorporated.

Show me the hundred well done studies that prove 20 plus 20 vaccines are safe.

Also—show me one well done study against another large study of children who were never vaccinated. Compare overall health in the 2 groups.

No? You can't?

There is no science going on.

Imagine this. A sales person approaches a parent. He says, "I have a very low-cost offer. Here are dozens and dozens of chemicals and random biological materials I can inject into your child between birth and 18 years of age. How about it? It's a great deal."

That's what's going on.

Psychopathic motherfuckers are going on.

Connect with Jon Rappoport

Cover image credit: skalekar1992

See Related:

Vaccine Woman