COVID-19(84) Update: Adamson BBQ Defies Orders, Police Back Down and Refuse to Issue Fine!!!

Adam Skelly has the right idea and he needs our support! Skelly is the owner of Adamson Barbecue, a restaurant in Etobicoke Ontario who recently defied the lockdown orders by opening his restaurant to patrons for dinning in. In an Instagram post Adam explained "For those of you who have eyes to see why I'm doing this, thank you guys so much," he said. "Thank you for letting me know that we have people in our corner….This is a risky move and you guys gave me the gas to do this."

In this video Dan Dicks of Press For Truth covers the latest Covid-19(84) news as police are keeping a close eye on the now famous BBQ who dared to defy orders while also explaining why Adam Skelly is justified in doing what he's doing because the numbers simply don't add up when it comes to COVID-19(84)!
