Where there is a risk, there should be a choice

In this documentary film, you'll learn:

- The chilling, harrowing story of how a World Health Organization (WHO) population control experiment, under the guise of a vaccination program, resulted in the sterilization of millions of women in Africa without their knowledge or consent.
- How the ability to carry a pregnancy to term has been tragically stripped away from these women as their government attempts to cover up the evidence.
- About a brave, Kenyan doctor – Dr. Stephen Karanja – who warned the world that once they're done with Africa, they're coming for the children and everyone else.
- Perspectives from leading experts expressing their concerns regarding other vaccines that could cause infertility in women around the world, including the COVID shot.
