Brief Excerpts:

I believe we're reaching a situation where more physicians will wake up and start talking.

...

What's happening is that many people in Israel and around the world are overtaken by fear. They are allowing people to scare them.

People who were supposed to be calm, keep things in proportion, guide, lead, heal. Instead they turned into agents of fear.

We're not dealing with the corona virus. Right now, we're dealing with a virus of fear.

Are we afraid to die or are we actually afraid to live? Because shutting ourselves in our home, putting on masks, stop breathing, running from one shot to the other, stop thinking, this means we stop living.

Maybe we're actually absorbing some kind of pattern that's designed to stop us from living. Because living truly means to take risks. You don't take risks, you don't have freedom, you don't have hope...

Do we know that fear and love cannot exist together?

I believe that we have arrived to what I call "the corona junction".

The corona junction helps people to decide for themselves where they're going –

Will you choose love or run away in fear?
