Del Bigtree, The Highwire: “Can we assume then that there’s 100,000 people at least in Michigan who are not afraid of dying from the Coronavirus?...What was the discussion about how deadly this is amongst these masses that you were walking amongst.”

Wendy Darling, founder, Michigan United for Liberty: “In our group in particular, we’ve got thousands of people in Michigan United for Liberty and the consensus there is ... we’re more afraid of the government than we are of the virus at this point.”
