

Merchant Ships Hit by Missiles; Grain/Fert Exports STOP in Ukraine/Russia

Merchant Ships Hit by Missiles; Grain/Fert Exports STOP in Ukraine/Russia

by Christian Westbrook, Ice Age Farmer

February 27, 2022

Ukraine & Russia grains—30% of world global exports—are no longer moving as three merchant ships have been hit by missiles in the Black Sea, including one chartered by Cargill to move grains.

Brazil is frantic after fertilizer imports from Russia are threatened. The global food trade is coming to a screeching halt and food prices are exploding even further as the conflict escalates.

Christian breaks down the developments from just the last 48 hours in this Ice Age Farmer special report.

Video available at Ice Age Farmer Odysee and BitChute channels.