No, I'm not going to be polite or gentle when so many good people are being tricked into cooperating with widespread, devastatingly destructive "solutions" to a problem that only ever threatened a tiny percentage of the population (which can be protected separately).

Feel free to copy and spread this video, since YouTube is likely to take it down if any of their censors notice it not parroting the idiotic, fear-driven party line.

[TCTL editor's note: YouTube did take it down after 50,000 views.]
