

The Brutal Onslaught of Bullsh*t

The stuff we're forced to witness and read about is incredible. Literally.

Besides this obviously orchestrated clampdown and ramped up war mongering following the Paris "'incident", front and center is the Syrian turnaround by a bold-stepping, clear minded Russia. The western media is beside itself, furiously trying to bury, minimize, justify and demonize this wise and functional step, the barefaced truth of which is turning this psychopathic move toward western hegemony on its warped head.

The ongoing genocides in Yemen, Ukraine and Palestine continue with nary a flicker of mention in the western press, with the Yemen extermination recently exacerbated no doubt by weaponized storms further jeopardizing the lives of millions in that defenseless country.

If that isn't dystopian enough, the newly placed head of the Human Rights Commission of the so-called United Nations is none other than a Saudi Arabian, a country deeply tied to all things terrorist which has just announced a mass beheading to take place as part of their public relations inspired move to continue to appear as barbaric as possible.

This kind of clap trap on the whirled stage is beyond comprehension to the awakened viewer, yet it goes on. Therein is the indictment against humanity, I might add. We listen, but don't respond consciously. We watch as observers, without actually participating in this surreal theater of the absurd being thrown at us – much like an industrial manure spreader splattering your windshield, yet we think it's just the weather.

Why do people tolerate it? Because it's mainstream – as in streaming from the mainframe, what is commonly referred to as “news”. What will it take for people to wake up?

Good News in Dystopia

Despite the West's brutal intrusion into Syria under the guise of fighting their own creation, aptly termed ISIS, sane elements in the world have stepped up to confront this madness. Namely Russia and its allies, whom the US is continually attempting to vilify and denounce in the most crassly adolescent manner, so much so that it's making heads across the entire world spin.

Yet this exemplifies what we're talking about here. Absolute crap thrown up on the screens of our minds that we're supposed to believe is the truth or “just the way things are”. From the western and Israeli creation of ISIS to the obviously US engineered coup in the Ukraine and incidences such as the poorly-staged downing of the Malaysian Airlines flight and other such false flags they relentlessly throw at us – 's all smoke and mirrors, and obviously so.

Look how blown out of the water the so-called Syrian gas attack was, or the fact that ISIS never touches Israel, one of its prime creators, supporters and trainers – or Turkey for that matter, a supposed NATO member. How blind do people have to be to not put 2 and 2 together?

Well, apparently, pretty damn blind. And swept away into the mental conditioning and mind controlled meme of what people want to see and hear. It's a disgusting tribute to the current state of mind-mushed, gutless humanity that lets anything and everything roll right over it without question, never mind resistance.

And On It Goes

This staged reality we're being presented with applies to the economic meltdown, the rise of militarized police and draconian domestic controls, and the continued attack on human health and our environment while grandstanding their fake hand-wringing over supposed population-caused climate change. This is all made possible and exacerbated by any and every media ploy, perhaps the most culpable agent in this engineered mess. Were there a truly free press that allowed honest news and investigative reporting instead of this onslaught of crass propaganda there is no way all of this would be possible.

Anyone can see the clampdown on humanity that's now in process, all under the guise of fighting terrorism, the supposed threat which is now conveniently spread abroad by these same 'powers that shouldn't be', via migration and their drumbeat of on-line recruitment via "radicalized social media" and internet sites.

Again, an engineered hoax with a very clear purpose.

All this while the chasm between the awakened and asleep continues to widen. What takes this to new stinking heights of repulsion is this engineered UN Agenda roll out. Don't people see this coming as clearly as some of us do? Agenda 2030 reeks of societal containment and the new world agenda, yet it's being sold as the best thing since sliced bread. Many are catching on but this awareness must be stepped up.

The TTP agenda is another major manifestation. Shrouded in secrecy, it and Agenda 2030 portend to exercise control mechanisms that have such massive ramifications that it makes the post-9/11 period look impotent.

Pope-Puree

Then there was this recent Pope-a-dope New World tour, never mind his ongoing globalist target-softening propaganda. After a bunch of politically charged judgements and summarily dismissing generalities, this guy had the gall to say;

“I have not come to judge you or to lecture you,” he said. “Allow me only, in the freedom of love, to speak to you as a brother among brothers.” (source)

This, while he self-righteously judges and lectures the dazed masses of sycophantic listeners, all looking for some kind of truth in what this extremely dangerous Jesuit, socialist NWO proponent and intentioned agenda-pushing puppet activist has to say.

Just look at this and tell me people aren't deliberately hypnotized with this insanity:

Watching Pope Francis speak at the multi-faith ceremony at the 9/11 Museum in lower New York brought tears to my eyes. I didn't expect it—I hadn't really focused on the pope's visit much except to plan my schedule around traffic snarls in Midtown, but when I tuned into this ceremony I became transfixed. (source)

Anyone with any sense knows this Pope figure has no real power, but on the other hand has full emotional, spiritual and ecumenical sway over billions of Catholics and other religiously inclined onlookers, never mind those innocently longing for a better world that “someone” should bring their way, all dutifully pushed by a fawning media.

For goodness' sake people, shake the spell and act accordingly.

Rise

I can't say much more on this without spitting nails. The good news is it's getting more obvious by the hour. People are beginning to connect the dots and that's a good thing, and in many more ways and deeper societal strata than we can conceive.

Don't fall for their version of our effect either. Of course they ignore, minimize and outright demonize anything that goes against their narrative. We need to recognize our effect for ourselves, and it's extremely encouraging. But much more needs to be done to keep it rolling out.

Rise up and do your part. The hour to act is now. Their intention is to shut down alternative and independent media which they know is their biggest threat. Don't get put on the defensive – now is the time to reach even wider audiences. Those awakening out of this trance are looking for answers and we have them. Let's get them into the hands of as many as possible via every means available.

Flood local media outlets with credible, well researched information and dot connecting analyses. Share them even with old stale contacts you might have given up on over the years. The entire world paradigm is shifting fast and everyone can sense it to some extent.

All it takes is a small crack for the water of truth to seep in and start to do its work.

While seeming to act with such impudent bravado, the matrix of deceit is crumbling under the weight of its own lies.

Now's the time to charge their faltering bastions of bullsh*t.

Keep heart. That's where it all happens.
