

The Final Transition and Defeat of the Archons

We are living in perhaps the most exciting and challenging time in history. The acceleration of information from every side continues to pour in while the spiritual awakening bursts upon us. This collision of worlds is ongoing and the culmination at many levels is surely inevitable and no doubt already upon us.

That humanity faces a psychopathic otherworldly driven agenda is evident, and has been for a long time. The advancement of technology at this rapidly rising peak of this crescendo brings new dimensions to our planet and existence. The ultimate power tools are now available to darkly driven forces and we are increasingly forced to deal with them on a daily basis as they steer towards their totalitarian nightmare.

This massive program is not a briskly brushed aside issue by any stretch of the imagination. Too much has been at work and covertly engineered for far too long to stop their progression – entirely. But it is destined to fail. The question is: will it be now?

It's up to us.

The Struggle Is Real

Everything natural, growing and spontaneous in our marvelous Universe attests to the eventual downfall of any and all controlling mechanisms. These living proofs are markers dear to our awakened hearts, regardless of power crazed entities' devastating designs of oppression and genocide. Life survives, just as plant life always comes back again despite forest fires, volcanic eruptions or massive earth changes.

That's the inherent nature of our wondrous creative existence.

Battles within life's cycles clearly rage, as they do with the varying levels of the higher conscious-being community around us. This struggle is apparently part of how things work. No matter how much some may attempt to over-spiritualize this reality, the growth cycle clearly involves living amidst adversity and learning to not just survive, but cooperate in love and harmony together despite oppositional forces.

However...

The missing factor has been doing what we can to dismantle their destructive mechanisms. This is the stage we now find ourselves after far too much time blindly trusting authority and abdicating our power and capabilities to overlords, many disguised as so-called elected representatives, while others are outright oligarchs who've been in place for eons without disruption.

How It Will Play Out

It's clear things will get worse before they get better. While this current world we're confronting is simply a snapshot in eternity, it cannot be minimized or ignored any longer. Too many forces are in the hands of madness to not be used to some degree. We see this in the roll out of the AI agenda as well as the monetary, biotech and geoengineering programs, to name just a few. For these despotic forces to not attempt to utilize these insane programs, most of which are already in process after decades of preparation, is counter-intuitive, however nightmarish the current as well as coming effects may be.

It's a form of momentum and very difficult to stop altogether. We can expose what's going on and help people prepare as well as speak up and fight this as much as possible. However, their meglomaniacal designs have been going on full throttle while humanity was lulled to sleep and distracted from seeing its intended control and obvious violence and death fixation to satisfy their parasitic cravings.

A fundamental truth many are uncomfortable with as true as it is, but seeing the enemy for who they are is intrinsic to knowing how to expose, resist and defeat them.

The Lynch Pin of Activation – Downing the Archon Agenda

On the bright side, we're taking their ill-conceived and wickedly intentioned construct of death and control down. One step, one article, one video, one conversation, one awakening, one empowerment, one loving deed, one concerned action at a time. This is our heart cry and the calling we're learning to step into.

You can visualize this as the crashing of massive spacecraft that are attempting to overtake our planet, much like we saw in the movie Independence Day. Their eventual end will have dire consequences on the rest of us since they've interwoven their matrix of control into every fabric of human society and even massively interfered with earth's natural processes.

But it won't happen unless we do our part.

Humanity has been bamboozled. Ironically, these archontic entities trying to control and manipulate us are able to transgress in the name of "freedom" with impunity – something these same entities loathe. Deceit is their number one tool, as perfectly evidenced by the archon possessed Zionist agenda, an outcropping that is so obviously wicked the entire world structure has to deny it even exists.

Similar to the bully in the playground, these oppressive entropic influences seek complete dominance at the expense of everything in their path. They create and promote anger, violence, greed and self-satisfaction to justify their own ends like a mind worm working its way into the human psyche. This is how they work, softening and even neutralizing opposition of any sort.

When confronted with the full light of truth, however, they cannot operate.

These parasites thrive on the principles of the generous life giving nature of our creative Universe, yet want to limit that access for others. In fact they're insanely jealous of us. There's a lot to be said about this in the Gnostic texts and other perceptive teachings everyone should be familiar with.

These archonic cryptoterrestrials in whatever form are real and are behind the scenes engineering our world either directly or using willing, psychopathic idiots amongst us to manage their tasks. It's an infestation and just as our white blood cells rush to meet destructive micro organisms to preserve our health and well being, so must we behave as conscious warriors of light and true love.

On the Fulcrum – A Golden Opportunity for Drastic Change

As the dystopian skynet-type AI program rolls out and geoengineers, psychoperverts and social engineers continue seeming to implode our planet and race, we stand at an apex of change never before seen in the history of our planet – at least as far as we know. Perhaps we're replaying the Atlantis vs Lemuria scenario or the ancient Vedic wars. I don't know, and it doesn't really matter, although the passing of the Kali Yuga is extremely significant as we make this transition.

We're faced with what we're faced with – very serious challenges and conditions.

I do feel strongly though that we have an opportunity of the ages, literally. The transition to the next age is upon us but how it comes out is up to us. We can stop the insanity of futile cycles of history and move on to the next level, or not. However you perceive the cycles of life, you have to admit that humanity's history is a sordid repeating cycle of oppression and violence, despite humankind longing to live in peace and harmony.

Controllers come and go at will while humanity has simply observed and complied. This is on the precipice of being ended if we will seize the opportunity before us. Synchronistically, or by design, this coincides with the change of ages foreseen by cultures of old.

The question immediately arises: Is this our ultimate opportunity to leave this repeating cycle, by standing up and defeating the self ordained masters of our race who have sentenced us to this prison-like repeating cycle of abuse? A profound thought.

I think so.

Our Potential Outcome – But It Must Be Seized

I visualize a very encouraging conclusion, although wrought with interim destruction and tragedy, much like we've witnessed in various sci-fi scenarios. Their programs will fail, but at a great price.

To be so cavalier as to think the destructive aspect would be fully averted is nonsense to me. It's merely wishful, blissful thinking that fills our current outlook with mind-numbing soma that keeps us from appropriate action. Just look at the constant escalation of outright war and genocide, never mind the geophysical, economic and mad science manipulations running amok. It's not letting up.

This new agey misleading so-called "pacifist" mindset that all is cool and everything will be taken care of by the “others” of whichever description, or just go “Om on the Range” while the world crumbles, is not the case or solution by any stretch of the imagination. It’s a deliberately disabling, debilitating and ultimately destructive imposed paradigm of social and personal disempowerment, however “cool” or trendy. Simple research into who and what agencies and institutes are behind these psyops movements will clarify any questions you may have.

But ultimately those who align themselves with this feel good gobbledygook are copping out from taking personal action and responsibility.

It’s my understanding there is outside help available to each of us, but it is dependent on our personal activation. To just watch and wait is nothing less than outright complicity in what is being perpetrated upon us.

Spiritual technologies are of course extremely important and in fact fundamental to countering this war on humanity being waged. I participate in many and find them very effective as well as personally empowering.

If we’re not empowered by conscious connectivity to Source and manifest the indomitable light of Truth and Love our efforts will be in vain, something I and many others have pointed out extensively. We must first be fully awake ourselves, and full on exposure of the reality of our situation and what we’re up against is intrinsic to this victorious overcoming.

Sorry Boys, We Woke Up and Won’t Have It

This is the fulcrum on which we are perched. Will humanity roll over and let these psychopathic parasites’ designs materialize? The answer is no.

But don’t just observe, participate. The extent of the damage these spiritually driven psychopaths create is up to us – here and now. We can minimize the damage and encourage and strengthen our progeny and brothers and sisters enormously. We must face up to it, in any and every way possible. The ongoing struggle is not to be dismissed in fatalism and reticence, but active participation in full on empowered conscious awareness.

Let's stand together, courageously and with dogged determination. It is clearly our calling at this crucial time in the history of mankind and our planet. Never fear or stand in awe of their temporal power, it only feeds their program.

Live in light and broadcast it with abandon!

Much love always,

Zen
