We were headed through the area in order to film for our next set of documentaries and ended up unavoidably right in the middle of this, so we made this mini documentary. The French Revolution of 1789 was a documented secret society creation with the express purpose to fundamentally change society and the world... if it's being said this is a French Revolution Redux, consider the goal of steering what started as a legitimate protest into something bigger and badder... and what will be changed this time.
