“Once you’ve gotten 750 million genetically modified mosquitoes flying around, it’s not like you can go out with a vacuum cleaner and get them back. This is a decision that alters the course of nature forever.”

Who’s behind this? Is this another God-complex moment by Bill Gates...”

Another shocking experiment on nature has been fully approved by the FDA, despite objections from environmental groups and the greater Florida community, as the insect release is planned for sometime after January 2021.

It’s Jurassic Park without the island, hitting America’s southern shores: what could possibly go wrong?!
