World Wide Rally for Freedom movement stands for human freedoms and sovereignty as the corporate-sponsored WHO moves to take charge of every nation's health policy

CITIES AROUND THE GLOBE MAY 21 / 22 – On the weekend of May 21-22, 2022, people organizing with World Wide Demonstration, a grassroots international freedom movement, hold their eighth weekend of global rallies to support fundamental human rights and sovereignty even as the World Health Organization (WHO) begins their World Health Assembly meeting May 22 in Geneva, Switzerland to amend the International Health Regulations of 2005 (IHR) and continue negotiations for a new global Pandemic Treaty. The proposed amendments and treaty hearings to-date indicate the corporate-sponsored WHO is using these maneuvers to attempt to gain powers that supersede rights protected by national constitutions. By amending existing health regulations, the WHO believes they will be able to bypass the need for direct approval from national government bodies and to avoid public debate or media coverage.

WWD stands for the sovereign right of humans to make their own individual health decisions, free from any corporate or governmental coercion or threats, affirming hard-won human rights accords.

Currently 80% of WHO funding comes from private corporations, including pharmaceutical companies, which demonstrates the glaring conflicts of interest the WHO has in devising health recommendations. We recognize their move to amend the IHR and push a new treaty as a straightforward corporate power grab under the guise of “health.” When corporations can use proxy organizations to order everyone in the world to take a product they make, the billions raked in create a powerful incentive to conjure the next crisis. It’s approaching common knowledge that the WHO’s draconian recommendations over the past two years were put in place not to improve human health, but to create windfall Pharma profits, to fuel fears, and to groom the population to accept tyrannical control levers over each person’s individual decisions that can be wielded by a few unelected billionaires.

World Wide Rally for Freedom events will take place in many cities in many countries all over the world. Check the official WWD telegram channel for an updated list.

One Day. Everyone Together. We Will All Be There.

We stand for 5 important Freedoms:

- Freedom of Speech.
- Freedom of Movement
- Freedom of Choice.
- Freedom of Assembly.
- Freedom of Health.

Many of our 5 important Objectives are being realized one by one. We continue to rally to ensure these damaging infringements of rights are ended for all time:

- End Lockdowns
- End Mask Mandates
- Prevent Vaccine Mandates and Coercion
- Return to Standard International and Domestic Travel
- End all State of Emergency Declarations

We have built our Movement upon 5 important Principles:

- Decentralization
- Collaboration
- Community
- Stability
- Peace

We advocate for 5 Solutions:

- Non-Compliance
- Empowerment
- Freedom Preserving Institutions
- Freedom Culture
- Shift The Narrative

We will not allow our inalienable Human Rights to be re-packaged as Human Privileges, to be conditioned upon compliance with authoritarianism.

Throughout history, humanity has been tried and tested in difficult times, but in the end, freedom always wins.

We can overcome any fears by building new social relationships and new systems that do function in respect of human rights.

World Wide Demonstration: In the spring of 2020, the idea of a world wide demonstration to stand up for our human freedoms in the face of never-ending lockdowns was born. The idea spread virally – the idea resonated around the world – and resulted in millions of everyday people taking to the street in peaceful rallies in hundreds of cities beginning March 2021. We believe that fundamental rights are not privileges, and we stand for peace, freedom, democracy and solidarity. We are mothers and fathers, children and grandchildren, grandmothers and grandfathers, brothers and sisters, young and old. We are the People. We are the Society.
