

Yanking the Morphic Rug

Until we truly realize our full potential and effect, both individually and collectively, we can easily live in a state of semi-conscious discouragement and disempowerment when it needn't be that way.

Our warfare is primarily spiritual.

Yet spirituality manifests in many ways, and much of it is informational. This in turn leads to more conscious awareness and much more conscious action, as well as fundamental non-compliance with the influences of today's imposed spiritual and societal constructs.

One clear example of the effect of this awareness is the many warnings regarding current events that the alternative community is increasingly sounding.

Conscious research is based on news and event trends, accumulated information, knowledge of the occult such as ritual dates, numerology and other esoteric sciences, as well as intuitive, conscious understandings.

This information dissemination is drastically affecting their plan.

It's not easy to quantify, but when everybody's tracking military "exercises" and other typical scenarios wherein most false flags have taken place and it gets any kind of serious traction, they may have to push the plan back. Sounding off sure worked in stalling off their initial takeover plans for Syria, which is why they're making the clearly staged ISIS end run. It's rare we'll ever know for sure what really goes on behind the scenes, but when Hillary Clinton says they're losing the information war, or Brzezinski says the global awakening is a threat, something's obviously having a profound effect!.

We're Interrupting Their Vibe and Pissing Them Off.

The informational and vibrational side is having a definite and profound impact.

Imagine someone having a little pre-planned wave pattern going in at one end of a swimming pool with a designed effect for some desired reason. Suddenly a few people jump in and start splashing around at the other end. That's gonna screw their little plan wave pattern, isn't it?.

Cosmically it's much more complex and profound than that, but you get the idea.

Do we force them into other avenues of attempted treachery when we expose their intentions and perfidy, or thwart their efforts all together? Something surely happens.

It may not stay the whole war on humanity overall but it can shift battle conditions and put them on the defensive. This is a big deal and sends a huge signal. "We are waking up and we are not going to take this anymore or participate in your insane plans!".

That's not something they want to have to deal with despite their attempts to dumb down and weaken humanity.

The fact is we're pissing them off and freaking them out, and these lower dimensional bastards are literally having to regroup and reshuffle their plans because of an outspoken "us".

Is this presumptuous? Not in the least.

From the creation of ISIS to the staged Paris massacre, or any so-called "lone gunman" rampages, we're on to them... and they know it.

We clearly know about their weather warfare, poison food, vaccine and mind control agendas. We've unraveled their phony education, political, financial and orchestrated media scams. We're even well versed in their wicked blood letting sacrificial rites, satanic ritual schedules, and can read their pagan occult symbolism and know their numerological proclivities.

We may not be aware of everything, but the Creative Force is clearly bringing an astounding amount of truth to light and we're shining it in their faces!.

It's Not A Pretty Picture Until You Transcend.

The Universe is much like an enormous multi-dimensional interactive blanket, or something of a cosmic water bed if you will.

One part moves or changes and everything's affected. Good if it's good, bad if it's bad. The nice thing is the inherent nature of the over-arching reality of consciousness is based in a vast ocean of truth, love and creativity, not some minuscule contained false reality. The Universe has a way of mitigating bad vibes as they eventually get swallowed up like back-washing waves in the vast ocean, only to join the great natural rhythm.

But not without conflict.

And our participation in this dynamic at our level is vital.

This picture is hard to swallow for most.

When you realize that some of the more sordid truths about our dark overlords are not just allegorical but literally true, it shakes up your sense of reality. But if that's what it takes, so be it. Better awake than asleep like a dormant log approaching the so-called "illuminati" buzzsaw as it appears so many are hypnotically destined for.

When things like 9/11 truth and the many other other false flags and the reality of the global cabal become apparent to the greater population, a flood of other information follows.

And most of it regarding our current world is not good, yet it is extremely empowering. In fact, it's so nasty you have to seriously learn how to handle it, and rise up above it into a place of greater conscious awareness where the beauty of the grand design overwhelms the negative.

Which happens pretty quickly for anyone in serious pursuit of Truth.

A Time To Act.

I've always been an action person, though not always fully awake.

I can't just sit around and observe. I've never been a so-called political activist, it just seemed pointlessly two-dimensional and angry even though I've sympathized with many causes. The beauty of conscious awareness is that you understand the importance and power of information, as well as the underlying connected vibrational nature of everything. While the lower density minions operate in the physical with some help from their dark occult forces, it doesn't hold a candle to working with full-on conscious reality.

Therein lies our strength, and we must be aware of it.

We must strike at the root of the tree and not just trim its branches.

How each of us responds is a wonder in itself.

To be told what to do, or await to be told, only feeds the false programming. However, once one discovers the true nature of our individual power everything becomes alive, awaiting our touch of conscious awareness. We realize we each change the very fabric of this morphic field that results in this experience we call "reality". Our effect is enormous, knowing the connected fabric that underlies all of creation is ours to affect for the better.

To grasp that empowerment and respond is to change everything, ourselves first and then all that is around us.

Find that place.

Anything short of it is next to futile. Yank the morphic rug a good one and as often as you can. It sends them reeling and signals others to do the same.

They can't operate on a playing field managed by loving, conscious awareness.

Their plans will only continue to quake and crumble. They know this and are afraid of us. That is the truth.

Give it to them – any and every way you can! The future is now.

Always now.

The rest will follow according to our awakened response.

Yank on! We are in control! Only what's True will be left standing!.

Much love, Zen
